Summary

I am pragmatic front-end developer based in Nairobi, Kenya. I enjoy working in areas to do with design thinking, UI, UX and SEO. I prefer to keep learning, challenging myself, and do interesting things that matter.

I am also an economics student with a highly analytical and creative mind. Mentally tough and always ready to push myself a little harder with unparalleled dedication and self sacrifice. Also, courageous, visionary and resolute. In addition, a willingness to learn and explore new ideas backed by unending curiosity.
